RUNAWAYS & DEATHS ★ THE TULSA BOYS' HOME & DHS

Does the Tulsa Boys' Home and DHS want to deny the problem or do they want to protect children?

On behalf of the family of Rylan Harris, we appreciate the investigative reporting conducted by Brian Dorman of News on 6 regarding the many runaways from the Tulsa Boys' Home, some of which have resulted in death.

The evidence we have gathered has forced us to go forward with a notice of litigation letter to the Tulsa Boys' Home and DHS and the filing of a federal civil rights lawsuit. Our goal is to provide a voice for the voiceless in a final effort to bring change.

Through our federal lawsuit, we look forward to hearing the stories of these runaway boys, some of whom are now men. We look forward to hearing from former employees of the Tulsa Boys' Home. We look forward to hearing from law enforcement, which had been called to the Tulsa Boys' Home on numerous occasions. We look forward to the many witnesses who knew what went on inside and outside the Tulsa Boys' Home. We look forward to hearing from DHS as to why they forced boys into the Tulsa Boys' Home when DHS knew it was inadequate.

We look forward to the truth finally being revealed.

Rylan Harris is gone, forever. The real question is ... does the Tulsa Boys' Home and DHS want to deny the problem or do they want to protect children?
